From the desk of the Regional Director

Indira Gandhi National Open University popularly known as IGNOU, was established by an Act of Parliament in 1985. Ushering the first step towards innovation in higher education, it sought to institutionalize a more flexible and democratic system of education that was enhanced and augmented through technology. Education has been marked as one of the significant levellers in society. Armed with knowledge, values and skills, one can aspire to transcend age old shackles of poverty, ignorance and social discrimination. IGNOU through its learner-centric programmes, flexibility of time and multiple option structure aims to bridge the gap between the privileged and the under-privileged, the reached and the unreached and more objectively contribute to the creation of a world class workforce that is educated, employable, skilled and innovative. An adherent to India's broader nation building plans through education and digitalization, IGNOU has institutionalized an enabling technology to assist students with online admission, online study material download, IGNOU App, IGNOU grievance redress and management (iGRAM) portal for the convenience of the learners, which seek to bring the University at the doorstep of every aspiring learner.

Regional Centre, Kolkata activities are guided by the overall vision of the University, as we work to reach towards our learners through different Learner Support Centres (LSC). Committed to the welfare of every learner through an integrated support system, Kolkata Regional Centre has aspired to coordinate its activities to strengthen this commitment.

This information brochure is prepared with an objective to provide necessary information to the prospective learners desirous of getting attached to a particular LSC for pursuing an academic programme of their choice. It contains the programme name, code, LSC code and address of activated Study Centres along with programme fee. This, we believe, will definitely help prospective learners to easily identify the programmes they want to pursue at the Study Centre of their convenience.

With Best Wishes,

Dr. Shiva Kumar G.N.

INDIRA GANDHI NATIONAL OPEN UNIVERSITY

The education policy of India aims to build a nation whose citizens are adequately geared to meet the global prerequisites of an active work force that is dynamic, skilled, educated and innovative. Aligning its vision and goals to values of inclusive education, democratization and meeting the changing trends and dynamics of the growing population in India is IGNOU. The University is committed to building the new 'knowledge superpower' in India, creating learner friendly mode of education, flexible and equitable, that can enhance students with the necessary skills and knowledge in areas of science, technology, academics and industry.

Committed to universalizing education IGNOU envisioned a democratic education, training and skill up-gradation through technology augmented Open and Distance Learning in the country. The ambitious endeavour of nation building through education aims to meet three primary goals of expansion, equity and excellence. IGNOU has strenuously aimed to align its vision to meet all these objectives with its expanding GER (Gross enrollment Ratio) through flexibility in entry qualifications, and duration of study of the learners; focused programmes to "reach the unreached" by which marginalized sections of society and backward group such as women, SC/ST, transgender, Below Poverty Line (BPL), differently abled etc could be brought into the nexus of the nation's education plan. Mobile Study Centres and Special Study Centres have been introduced to serve remote locations to reach the disadvantaged groups across the country. The third objective of ensuring excellence is a challenge that IGNOU is preparing to confront. To ensure accountability, quality, employability of the educated through Open and Distance Learning, skill building and digitalization of the new generation workforce is indeed a challenge. Technology-augmented learning and student support services can be powerful enablers in this endeavour, especially in reaching quality programmes to educationally backward regions.

IGNOU has currently 228 academic programmes on offer through 67 Regional Centres spread across the country, ably supported by 2981 Learner Support Centres. We have currently a commutative student strength of over 2.81 million. There are 43785 academic counsellors interacting with our learners on a part-time basis. The University has strong international presence in various countries and has a cumulative student strength of 62122 in over 40 overseas countries.

As the largest people's University, IGNOU is now gearing to respond to new challenges through innovation and digitalization. Marking its presence in the global drive towards sensitivity for environment IGNOU is in the process of complete digitalization. Low carbon foot print and technology augmented learning mechanism is steering its path towards innovation . Some of the key areas of innovation include development of innovative learning and learner management; technology augmented documentation and dissemination; inter-institutional networking through capacity building, collaboration. For enhanced reach, the University is strengthening its Unnat Bharat Abhiyan by adopting more than 45 villages.

ICT-enabled initiatives for effective and learner friendly instructional systems include e-learning, multimedia learning, mobile learning and different forms of web-based learning. With the support of High Definition infrastructure and equipment at the Electronic Media Production Centre, state of art, curriculum-based video programmes are generated. Developing a seamless interface for learners through their academic life cycles is both a challenge and opportunity. ICT applications for support services including online admission and examination have been implemented. Digital repositories such as e-GyanKosh and the Flexi Learn portal being reactivated by the University in line with its Intellectual Property Rights policy have the potential for easy retrieval at any time and at any place.

The University is also actively engaged in redefining and implementing key priorities. Developing mechanisms for accreditation in Open and Distance Learning systems; choice based credit system; quality assurance; establishment of a community development cell; modalities for implementing the choice-based credit system; and supporting Massive Open Online Courses (MOOC) are some of the important areas of emphasis. Within the framework of the newly formulated Policy on National Skill Development and Entrepreneurship 2015, the University is focused on developing courses, both independently offered and as part of its flagship programmes, to foster skill development. Such programmes would be aligned with the National Skills Qualification Framework. The University's scale of operations and quality of courses would enable it to make notable contributions in providing skills to an estimated human resource pool of 405 million requiring training and re-training by 2022.

This University has a three-tier structure for student support. The first one is the Headquarters of IGNOU located at New Delhi, followed by the Regional Centres across the country. At the bottom, the learner Support Centers (LSCs) act as bedrock for the system where learners are provided various supports that include inter alia pre and post- admission counselling, distribution of study materials, academic counselling, assignment evaluation and examination related support. The LSCs keep abreast with all technological marvels in the field of education viz, Audio- video (AV) CDs, internet, Edu-Sat, Gyan Vani and Gyan Darshan facility to help students garner its benefits to the fullest.
